

Prove It + - Drama - Character Review Worksheet

To breakdown a character, it is important to think through some details and "background" of the character. This worksheet can be helpful for students who are reviewing or inventing a character for acting purposes and/or developing a character from a preexisting script. If you don't know the exact answer, use your imagination and develop an answer you feel is correct for them.

Character's Name: _____

How old is the character?

Where do they live?

How would you describe the character? (i.e. moody, temperamental, calm, passive, quiet, etc.)

How intelligent are they, and how much education do they have?

What is their social status? Are they wealthy, poor or middle-class?

How would you describe their family?

What do they do for a living?

What are their religious or spiritual beliefs?

What kind of clothes do they prefer?

Are they an emotionally expressive person? In what ways do they express their emotions?

What is their sense of humor like?

What is their best trait? You're their worst trait?

What is the relationship to other characters in the play/story? How do they treat them?

What do they love to do?

Who or what bugs the character the most?

What are they most proud of?

What frightens them?

What is their posture like?

What does their voice sound like?